Re: Deathwatch Assistance, Planet Avalos (M372-249-3)

Commander Markenstern,

The situation on Avalos is appearing quite desperate – genestealers have clearly taken root on the planet. Avalos has all the signs of infestation, and like so many of these backwater worlds the local authority has been ineffective in either identifying or dealing with the threat. I will conduct an investigation into the extent of the infestation, but it may be my recommendation that Avalos be purged, lest it lead to the spread of Hive Fleet Dagon closer to the Well of Night.

At this time, I believe the planetary governor, Lord-Governor Thorsholt, may be complicit in the spread of the infestation. The situation appears to be worsening by the day - the aid of one of your Kill-Teams could turn the tide for the planet and stem the advance of Dagon into the Jericho Reach.

In the name of the Emperor,

 Inquisitor Kalistradi
